CHESAPEAKE HOSPITALITY TO MANAGE THE HACKERMAN-PATZ HOUSE AT UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND REHABILITATION AND ORTHOPEDIC

Greenbelt, Md., November 12, 2015 — Chesapeake Hospitality, a dynamic third-party hotel management companies, has been selected to manage the newly opened Hackerman-Patz House at the University of Maryland Rehabilitation and Orthopedic Institute located in Gwynn Oak, MD. Kim Sims, president of Chesapeake Hospitality, made the announcement.

The Hackerman-Patz House provides a compassionate home-like setting offering an affordable and comfortable alternative for patients and families, where daily travel to and from home to the hospital is a hardship. The company currently manages the Hackerman-Patz House at the St. Joseph Medical Center in Towson, Maryland.

“With more than 50 years of experience in successful operations in full-service hotels and resorts, we are proud to partner with the Hackerman-Patz House and provide families with a comforting sense of hospitality during their time of need,” said Sims. “We are committed as an organization to serving our local communities and this is a meaningful opportunity for us to apply our expertise and do just that.”

The Hackerman-Patz House was made possible through the generosity of philanthropist Willard and Lillian Patz Hackerman. Operations are supported through guest fees, fundraising efforts and special friends of the Hackerman-Patz House at University of Maryland Rehabilitation & Orthopedic Institute.
