

EXPERIENCES

Grand Bahama Island

Nandana Villa: On the isle’s West End, this ultraluxe private-use getaway now offers an Embraer Phenom jet for private guest transport to and from the resort and has constructed a beachfront yoga deck, adding to its myriad haute amenities for guests. Think snazzy kayaks, a 20-foot tender, bikes, jet skis, ATVs, tuk tuks, and more. Full estate rental from $9,000 per night. 877-220-0737; nandanavilla.com

Harbour Island

Three Bees: This 13-bedroom beachfront compound named after its three colonial-inspired structures — Villa Bee, Beach Cottage, and Bayside — has just added to its impressive range of water toys and now offers the latest and greatest gadget for extreme watersport enthusiasts: the Flyboard. In this got-to-see-it-to-believe-it cross between a jet ski, skateboard, and manned robot, you’re first submerged in the ocean and then fly above it like a superhero. The resort also has a new all-inclusive policy that makes massages as well as premium-brand beverages part of the exclusive hire package. Seven-day, full-property rental from $150,000. 800-225-4255; threebeesvilla.com

Kamalame Cay

Kamalame Cay Private Island Resort: Located off Andros Island, this resort has teamed with the Nature Conservancy to launch a reef restoration volunteer program in which guests experience hands-on conservation, assisting in coral nursery restoration across proximate patches of Andros’ Great Barrier Reef while acquiring PADI Master Scuba Diver credit for the philanthropic dives. Rooms from $250. 877-768-9423; kamalame.com

Moon Club bar and lounge

Paradise Island

Atlantis: In the buildup to Baha Mar’s grand opening, its biggest competitor has upped the ante on its Vegas-style action with enhancements to its casino areas, including the addition of a high-octane, 6,860-square-foot race and sports book betting parlor where you can wager high stakes on races and sporting events. What else? Although it’s not new, do drop into the 2-year-old Moon Club bar and lounge for artisanal cocktails, draft beers, fine wines, and fine stogies, if you’re a cigar aficionado. This hot-spot club grabs attention with glass sculptor Dale Chihuly’s under-the-sea-meets-out-of-this-world theme and its expansive moon jellyfish aquarium. Rooms from $300. 877-365-6127; atlantisbahamas.com
