

Yountville for Families

With one of the highest per capita Michelin starred restaurants in the nation, it is easy to see how Yountville can seem like a destination out of reach for families.

As parents we're more likely to be doing laundry than dining at French Laundry.

But don't let all those fancy stars get in the way of having a spectacular time with your family in Yountville. What's great is Yountville is a sleepy little town past the hustle and bustle with lots to do in walking distance. With a population just over 3,000, Yountville looks like a charming village right out of a storybook and your children will love it.

The town has a few upscale hotels that will be best suited for a romantic getaway than a family weekend to wine country. Luckily, just across from the park, where the free movie nights are taking place, you'll find the quaint Napa Valley Lodge. The hotel is on the northern tip of Yountville and surrounded by vineyards. My favorite amenity about the property is the free champagne brunch that is served daily. The staff is kind and generous and poolside brunching is highly recommended.
