Next Great Stop: ANGUILLA

With its bright-turquoise water and soft-white sand, this small Caribbean island is the stuff of honeymoon dreams—and there are plenty of new places to stay. The wellness-focused Reef by CuisinArt (doubles from $500 per night, thereefbycuisinart.com), on gorgeous Merrywing Bay, has its own hydroponic farm and activities like glass-bottom kayaking. Nearby, at the Four Seasons Resort and Residences (shown here; from $500 per night, fourseasons.com), you can choose between two beaches and take in the sunset from the bluff-top infinity pool. On Shoal Bay, the Manoah Boutique Hotel (from $350 per night, the-manoah.com) features just 25 light-filled rooms with balconies, while Zemi Beach House (from $350 per night, zemibeach.com) lays claim to the isle's only hammam (Turkish bath). There's also a rum bar, where you can raise a glass to a lifetime of adventures together. —Brooke Porter Katz
