SPRING 2016

Escape the Snow

The newly opened 70-room Zemi Beach House (from $699; zemibeach.com) on Anguilla sits on miles of powder-white beach, and includes suites with plunge pools, a Thai spa, and toes-in-the-sand beachfront dining (above).

In hip-and-chic St. Barths, brand-new five-bedroom Villa Ginger (from $12,000/week; wimco.com) sits high in the hills above Lorient Beach with showstopping sunset views from its 60-foot pool (below).

From Eden Rock St. Barths opens the Christopher Columbus Suite (from $4,373; edenrockhotel.com), a 2,200-square-foot, dramatically designed space with nonstop views and a roomy, air-conditioned terrace.

In Kauai, The Lodge at Kukui'ula (from $1,000/night; lodgeatkukuiula.com) opens a collection of smartly scaled, island-style villas, and offers uniquely Kauai adventures like hiking the Kalalau Trail and sailing traditional Hawaiian canoes. Organically inspired spa treatments feature plants from on-site gardens.

Dramatic and palatial, the 12-suite Casa Cuixmala (from $1,600; cuixmala.com) on Mexico's Pacific Coast has reopened after Hurricane Patricia (above and below). Two miles of private beach for sunning and paddleboarding, thousands of acres of nature trails for jungle meandering, and a world-class organic restaurant with amazing views. ▷
